BOSTON — With over a quarter of a century of experience providing virtual medical management services, including remote medical second opinion services, WorldCare International, Inc. will sponsor Benefits & Pensions Monitor's industry event "The Future of Benefits," taking place on October 18, 2018, at the InterContinental Toronto Centre in Toronto.

The event will focus on what the benefit plans of tomorrow will look like, with speakers sharing their thoughts on the main pain points for benefits administrators and what options there are to address them. Dr. Heinzl will examine better management of disability claims and will introduce disability-focused medical second opinions, a new opportunity for disability claims management to help contain costs, improve patient care and reduce the duration of claims.

"Disability takes an enormous toll in Canada every day. Insurance business leaders, claims professionals and Human Resource practitioners are looking for solutions to improve the care of their members and employees and, at the same time, control costs," stated Richard Heinzl, MD, Global Medical Director, WorldCare International, Inc. "It was precisely for these reasons that WorldCare has created a new disability-related medical second opinion service, in collaboration with Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital, which also incorporates disability insurance industry research by actuarial leader Milliman, Inc. We look forward to sharing our innovation in the optimization of disability claims management."

"Benefits and Pensions Monitor is excited to announce the return of expert speaker, Richard Heinzl, MD, from WorldCare, International Inc. at "The Future of Benefits" event on September 25 in Toronto. Going through the process of a disability claim for an employee is hard enough but the employers that must manage these claims are in a tough spot, especially with the increasing number of these claims over the years. While trying to do what is best for the employee, they also must manage costs and understand all the options that are out there. We are eager to hear Dr. Heinzl share his insights on this pressing matter.," stated Kristyn Dougall, Executive Meeting & Event Manager, Benefits and Pensions Monitor.
